Judge Davis withheld approval of a bond for property belonging to Arthur M. Price after being notified that Price was filing an equity action against the borough and the State Dept. of Forests and Waters to prevent construtcion of flood control dikes on his

Price's action, filed in the office of N. Henry Fenner, proposed dike on the Brodheads Creek on his land "would be sufficient to contain a flood much greater than the flood which occurred in this area in

He contended construction of the dike would result in a "high, wide wall within a short distance of the back" of a three-story brick apartment and one - story commercial garage he owns, Price said, in the action, that the "estimated return period for the 1955 year flood at East Stroudsburg is 100 years" and that, building the dike would end his use of the property for "parking, expansion of buildings, commercial development and other uses." He contended the dike would serve no useful purpose for 100 years, "If ever," and that it would be "an attractive nuisance for children, a breeding ground for mosquitoes, an irremovable esthetic eyesore and an unproductive investment of public funds."

Counsel for the borough and state have 20 days in which to file an answer to the equity action, after which the county court will set a date for the

He also filed an objection to approval and filing of the bond covering reimbursement for damages. Both were filed by L. T. Brown and R. L. Mervine, traded a lot of tough words in recent weeks-ever since this country exposed Soviet intentions to make Cuba a Communist base of operations in the Western Hemisphere.

The heated exchange reached a new climax Tuesday night in the United Nations Security Council shortly before that body voted to refer Cuba's dispute with the United States to the Organization of American States.

Soviet warnings of "Don't touch Cuba" were quickly answered by U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, who told the Russians: "Don't touch us. Don't seek to extend Communist imperialism to the Western Hemisphere."

Previously, President Eisenhower had wisely notified Soviet Premier Khrushchev that this country will protect its interests in the Western Hemisphere regardless of threats of Russian military aid to Cuba.

Even the most consecrated neutral must recognize that we cannot countenance Communism attempting in any into the Western Hemisphere.

Russia and the United States have way to establish a base in the neighboring island.

> No doubt Khrushchev would like above all to have an outpost in Cuba. That, however, is a luxury not to be permitted to him and he should be fully aware of this fact.

> While we doubt that the Soviet premier is aiming at open warfare, his real purpose could be economic dominance of Cuba. It would serve his purpose well if the island were bound to Russia economically or depended upon it for arms and munitions.

There is no easy answer to handling Soviet - Cuban relations. But to find the right one, we do well to enlist the collective judgment of all the American states who have banded together for mutual protection.

By referring the quarrel to the 21nation Organization of American States, the United Nations is letting the machinery of hemispheric cooperation for defense be brought into play before Fidel Castro invites tyranny and terror

The Farmer At Heart - The death earlier this week of Chester County's State Senator Thomas P. Harney brought to a close an interesting saga on Capitol Hill . . . Senator Harney was a farmer and with colleagues, always prided himself on having been a farmer.

His influence was heavy on farm legislation but he was equally noted in other fields . . . For example, Governor Lawrence in expressing his sorrow over the Senator's death noted:

"The administrative branch of our government is particularly indebted to Senator Harney for his service on the Advisory Committee to Study the Condition of the Unemployment Compensation Fund. His service on that study group was conscientious, and he exercised an extremely worthwhile influence of calm appraisal."

Incidentally Democratic Govment of regret over the death left a good taste on both sides of the partisan fence on Capitol Hill . . . Interestingly, Senator Harney was only four years younger than 71-year-old Governor Lawrence.

Paying Top Fugar Prices

NEW YORK (AP)—Four American refiners yesterday paid the highest price for sugar since the Korean War.

Sugar circles said the price reflected skimpy market supplies following cutting of Cuba's sugar quota. They said there were large quantities of sugar in the world.

Purchases were made at 6.70 cents a pound, top quotation in the domestic market since 1951. A total of 25,000 tons was sold at that price.

American Sugar Refining Co., National Sugar Refining Co., American Molasses Co., and Pepsi-Cola Co. were the buyers. Sales were made by Olavarria & Co., sugar importers, who said they had more to sell at the same price.

Philippines Lag

Action by the refiners came late in the day. It followed expressions of disappointment by the Agriculture Department that the Philippines had not speeded delivery of 109,000 tons of newly allocated

This allocation was given the Philippines to help fill the deficit caused by the recent 700,000 ton cut in Cuba's sugar quota to the United States.

In sugar circles the market was described as "getting hot." One broker said rising prices could be attributed to "the extreme delay of the State Department in restoring to the market the sugar taken out of the market by the cut in Cuba's quota."

He added the sugar was available in the world, but political and economic difficulties apparently were hampered getting at it.

A United Kingdom refiner purchased 10,000 tons of Cuban raw sugar for September-October shipment at 3.36 cents a pound.

Motorists Not Getting Tax Share

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP) — "Motorists pay for all the highways they get, but certainly don't get all the highways they pay for," an foilman contended yesterday.

Dayton P. Clark, chairman of the Associated Petroleum Industries of Pennsylvania, made the statement in a speech for the Kiwanis Club.

"Under the 5-cent state gasoline tax. Pennsylvanians now pay $148,700.000 a year, but the highway department now receives little more than half of this amount." he said.

Few County Roads

"A half cent of the tax, or about $16,500,000 a year, goes outright to the counties—even though there are now relatively few county roads that have not been brought."

to the counties—even though there are now relatively few county roads that have not been brought into the state highway system," he added.

Clark also pointed out that the department must give at least 20 millions of the tax to municipalities and another 30 millions plus annually for such mandated programs as highway safety, state police, and employes retirement. Out of the more than 148 million dollars, he said, the department has some 70 to 80 millions left for construction, administration, maintenance, right-of-way acquisition and debt payments.

Pony Express Rides Again

MARIETTA, Pa. (AP) — The Pony Express rolled again yesterday because of a kidding remark by Postmaster Frank Sea-

Some time ago, Seaman received a routine invitation from the U.S. Post Office to participate in the 100th anniversary observance of the Pony Express.

Seaman started ribbing 70-yearold Henry B. Heisey of Mt. Joy, R. 1, who regularly hauls mail by truck in the area.

Seaman told Heisey he would have to deliver the mail by horse-back.

Heisey, a veteran horseman, rose to the challenge. He borrowed a horse and western garb, including a 10-gallon hat and a six shooter.

Wednesday, Heisey carried the mail—200 pieces—from Marietta to Maytown to Bainbridge, a distance of 15 miles. It took him 2½ hours. Residents gathered at each relay station to cheer him on.

Dam Designer Dies At 69

PARIS (AP) — Andrew Coyne, 69, the engineer who designed the Malpasset Dam which gave way last December causing the death of more than 400 persons in Frejus, died Wednesday night after a long illness.

Coyne had built many dams in France, North Africa, Indonesia, Canada and South America. He preferred a design for a thin wall of concrete arched in the direction of the water's pressure.

Investigations of the Malpasset disaster have tentatively blamed a shift in the rock structure which anchored the dam at one side. No final decision on responsibility for the catastrophe has ever been made.

Weissman said these regions can be aided by plant financing, public works, urban redevelopment, vocational retraining and technical assistance.

Kennedy To Plan Confab With Key Men

HYANNISPORT (AP) - Sen. John F. Kennedy said yester-day he will have conferences within the next few days with top Democrats, including Adlai E. Stevenson, on plans for the presidential campaign.

The deeply tanned Democratic standard bearer chatted informally with newsmen at the gate of his summer home after announcing earlier he intends to create a new national organization-to be called "Citizens-for-Kennedy.

The national chairman of the new group will be Byron (Whizer) White, 43, a Denver lawyer and All-America football halfback. He managed Kennedy's Colorado campaign in the race for the nomination.

The Citizens - for - Kennedy group will open its door for dissident Democrats, Republicansmay be unhappy about their own ticket - and independent voters who want to support the senator in his election bid, an aide said.

Kennedy talked to newsmen after a conference with John M. Bailey, Connecticut state chairman: and James Rowe. Washington lawyer, who is an aide to the Democratic vicepresidential candidate, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas. He said he planned to talk with Johnson by telephone and that there is a possibility his running mate may visit here

Kennedy said former New York Gov. W. Averell Harriman will come to Hyannisport Friday for talks on foreign policy. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential candidate in 1952 and 1956, will come here next Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press secretary, said the "Citizens-for-Kennedy" organization is designed for those "who want to help Kennedy and work apart from the regular Democratic party organization." New York Democratic Chairman Michael H. Prendergast said on the floor of the party convention last week that Kennedy had agreed to work only with the regular state organiza-

Explosions Rip Farrell

FARRELL, Pa. (AP) - Two explosions 45 minutes apart rocked this northwestern Pennsylvania community vesterday A 14-year-old girl was killed and her eight-year-old playmate was burned critically. The first blast occurred at the Sharon Steel Corp. plant. The two girls were playing in a field adjacent to the plant.

Mercer County Coroner Cyril T. Reinsel said Boneta Ann Curtician of Farrell burned to death on the scene. Debra Connor, also of Farrell, was admitted to the nearby Sharon Hospital with burns over her whole body.

Shortly after the first blast, a lacquer tank blew up at the Sawhill Tubular Products Co. six blocks away. Fire spread quickly through the firm's fabricating building. Some 90 employes were in the vicinity of the blast and fire but escaped

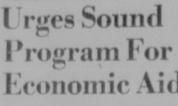

Firemen from four surrounding communities battled the fire for nearly two hours before bringing it under control. Only a small grass fire resulted from Farrell Police Captain George Krantz said the first explosion was the more wicked of the "It shattered glass in nearby houses, knocked out windows disconnected telephone lines and blew a 10-foot hole in the steel firm's wall," he said. "The whole

Wyckoff Shopper

From the Farmers' Museum at Cooperstown, I purhased a neatly printed article headed "Domestic Econo-"The true economy of housekeeping," it advises, in the words of a Mrs. Childs, "is simply the art of gathering up all the fragments, so that nothing be lost. Fragments of time, as well as materials."

Mrs. Childs would, I am sure, be horrified at the frittering away of those fragments of time for which I am responsible today. I should like to think that everything I did was important . . . it was, of course, to me. But Mrs. Childs would probably consider me a wastrel, for she, poor dear, was something of a perfectionist, I fear. Under the heading of SCRAPS FOR THE ECONO-MICAL, one is encouraged to "attend to the following rules, and do not despise them because they appear so unimportant" as "many a little makes a nickle." The rules include several that are amusing in light of our present day knowledge—this, for example: an ox's gall will set any color, silk, cotton, or woolen. I have seen the colors of calico, which faded at one washing, fixed

Mrs. Childs may have had something there . . . although for the life of me it's a bit hard to picture greatgreat-grandma occupying herself with ox's galls, and such. I wonder what she would say if she might return today and see the latest development in fabrics . . . wash and wear . . . drip dry . . . COLORFAST . . . pre-shrunk? Why, Mrs. Childs, bless her penny-pinching heart, would have a ball in our Wyckoff fabrics department, or in our budget cotton dress department where for even 2.99 she could find non-running fabrics already made up into charming dresses.

Mrs. Childs would also be delighted, I am sure, by the many varieties of candles on sale in Wyckoff's, particularly at Christmas time! We have come a long, long way since she advised the steeping of candle wicks in lime-water and saltpetre in order to assure a clearer light and non-running tallow.

One suggestion housewives, mixing salads in pretty Italian pottery or carved wooden salad bowls from India. purchased from our Wyckoff gift or housewares department, might follow to make their food more digestible is the dropping of the cucumber slices in cold water.

This works a bit of magic, according to Mrs. Childs. Mrs. Childs practiced her economies in other ways. She recommended the buying of vinegar by the barrel or half barrel at the time one began housekeeping . . . and never, never, never by the gallon. Wonder what she'd say seeing us carry our bottles of Spice Island vinegar home from Wyckoff's? She'd shudder, of course—until she tasted the difference. Then she too would throw economy to the winds. Another recommendation of hers . . . the use of New England rum to wash one's hair . . would probably go by the board the minute she stepped into our Wyckoff cosmetic department and saw the wondrously varied products concocted for the precise purpose of keeping the hair in top-knot quality,

I'm afraid after reading Mrs. Child's article, the only thing I find truly useful is her recipe for election cake. "Old-fashioned election cake," she writes, "is made of four pounds of flour ... 3/4 pound of butter ... four eggs . . . one pound of sugar . . . a pint of good yeast. Wet it with milk as soft as it can be and be moulded on a board." THAT I'm going to feed to the candidate NOT

Court Rules Against Bowlers

The bowlers took their suspension case to a Lackawanna Court but lost. The suspension may still be appealed to the ABC. At the ABC's recent legal board meeting, 67 members were hander, who seemed to change bat. Curtis threw only 12 pi

Several of the suspensions were for rigging averages. One case involved a team which had won its league title two or three weeks before the end of the season and bowled left-handed in the remaining weeks to keep averages down and build a handicap.

But the most common suspensions says Baker, is for misappropriation of league or team funds.

victory. Roberts fanned 8 Giants He walked only one in a near perfect pitching performance-his sixth victory of the campaign gainst nine setbacks.

35th Shutout It marked the 35th shutout for Roberts who broke in with the Phils in 1948. It was his second of 1960, the first a 5-0 triumph over Cincinnati July 5.

The Phils collected 10 hits of four San Francisco hurlers. Roberts pitched hitless ball until two were out in the fifth. Then Felipe Alou slammed a bouncer toward third. Joe Morgan stepped back, stabbed the hard hit ball on the first hop but fell to the ground and it was scored as a single. Philadelphia jumped on Giant starter Jack Sanford in the third for three runs. Philadelphia 003 000 000-3 10 2 San Francisco 000 000 000-0 1 0 Roberts and Dalrymple; San-

ROSS COMMON PLAYHOUSE now showing the smash Broadway musical "The Boy Friend." Show every night through July 24. If this is anything like the hit that "Kiss Me Kate" was last week we're all in for a fine funfilled eve. Ross Common Playhouse is just 12 miles from Stroudsburg on Route 115, near Wind Gap. And just across the highway is the Ross Common Manor for cocktails and dinner. For an evening of theater that looks like another hit make your reservations by calling Pen Argyl UN 3-4222. Something special:

THURS. PERFORMANCE AT THE EASTON HOTEL MISS JACKIE HASWELL, formerly of Stroudsburg, and one of five daughters of the Daily Record's Circulation Manager, Jack Haswell struck up backstage conversation with Miss Barbara Lammon who is currently performing in "The Boy Friend" at Ross Common Playhouse, Both girls danced at the Copa in New York. Barbara is in Esquire's July issue, Jackie performed at the Sands in Las Vegas during the "Play Boy" articled filming of "Ocean's 11" whose east includes the world-wise Dean, Sammy, Peter, Miss Haswell, a silverblonde tousled lovely returns to the Sands

The corps, seeking the fifth state trophy for the past in as much victories also were scored in 1932 and 1938, will have 27 buglers, a full drum line of eight and a cymbal player, two drum majors, including John Casagrande, top domino, and James Prime, director, and a color squad of eight captained by John Williams.

In Legion Parade

Originally organized in 1926, the corps also will appear in Saturday's big parade, closing feature of the 42nd annual convention. And plans already have been made to add to the bugle line after this latest competition, an indication that a still greater band of Yellow Jackets is in prospect for next year and sub-
